GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF EXAMINATIONS.

Section 210, Code 1921, requires the State Examiner to examine the books and accounts of state and county officers and all other public officers and boards, whether temporary or permanent, however created, and for what ever purpose, having the control, management, collection or disbursement of any public moneys of any character or description. This law, coupled with other provisions of the statutes, makes it the duty of the State Examiner who is also ex-officio Superintendent of Banks, to examine the books and accounts of the following:

1. All State Officers.
2. All County Officers.
3. All State Banks.
4. All Building and Loan Associations.
5. All Incorporated Cities and Towns.
6. All Boards.
7. All County Free High Schools.
8. All Irrigation Districts.
9. First and Second Class School Districts on Petition.
10. All Firemen's Disability Associations.
11. The Students' Loan Fund.
12. The Veterans' Welfare Commission.
13. The Montana Association for Prevention of Tuberculosis, Secretary's books.
14. Special Examinations.
15. All State Institutions, but made no appropriation, so work could not be done this year.

There are 23 State Departments to examine at least once each year. There are 55 counties to examine at least once each year. There are 109 incorporated cities and towns to examine at least once each year. There are 19 County Free High Schools to examine at least once a year. There are 68 irrigation districts to examine at least once a year. There are 32 building and loan associations and 1 dairy loan association to examine at least once each year. In the year 1916 there were 41 counties in the State. In the year 1924 there are 55, an increase of 14 or almost one-third within the past eight or nine years, and one more county to add presently. In like manner the objects of examination have increased all along the line, as has also amount of care and work bestowed on each object of examination. As an illustration, six, seven and eight years ago, the report of a county examination was typed on two sheets of letter size paper; today it is typed on from ten to forty-nine pages of legal size typewriter paper. So with each object of examination. For special mention we might refer to the examination made of the Veterans' Welfare Commission in 1922 which contained forty-three pages and occupied the time of one examiner for thirty days, with the assistance of another one for fifteen days; of Yellowstone County which contained forty pages and occupied the time of one examiner twenty-eight days and of another examiner for the special examination eight days, and of Miles City which contained forty-nine pages and occupied the time of two examiners for thirty days. One county occupied the attention of an examiner seventy days. Eight years ago there were but few irrigation districts in the State and they were not examined by this Department. Today there are sixty-eight.

The above survey is written to apprise you of the growth and development of the department from its humble beginning a quarter of a century ago, when the examiner quietly visited 16 counties and a few banks, to its present state-wide activities. Hardly a session of the Legislature has passed without creating new duties for it. With those new duties came new responsibilities. "Time makes ancient good uncouth", and so what once was ample would be now altogether inadequate. The department has developed into a real task which is worthy of the best efforts of a corps of trained men and women. It were better not attempted than half done.

Part I---BANKS

“Do nothing to foster and encourage speculation. Give facilities only to legitimate and prudent transactions. Distribute your loans rather than concentrate them in a few hands. Pursue a straight-forward, upright, legitimate banking business. Treat your customers liberally, bearing in mind that the bank prospers as its customers prosper”.

HUGH McCULLOUGH,

Appointed by President Lincoln First
Comptroller of the Currency, 1863.

Excessive loans have caused almost one-fifth of the failures in the National Banking System since its beginning.

PERIOD OF DEFLATION, DROUTH AND BANK FAILURES.

The record of the last four years of banking history in Montana, will read like Jeremias's Book of Lamentations, when the history of the State is written.

It is highly improbable and altogether devoutly to be wished that never again will Montana be visited with a combination of adverse circumstances such as was the real compelling cause that brought about this Egyptian famine.

It is the history of the agricultural breakdown in the northwest. During the summer of 1917, Montana had next to no moisture. All summer long the great reaches of rolling table land east of the mountains lay parching in the lurid sunlight. No pasture for the herds and no moisture for crops. Stockmen had to ship out and farmers had little to reap and less to sell. Bills went unpaid at the stores and notes at the bank could not be met. Renewals followed. America was engaged in a foreign war. Prices skyrocketed. Fortunes were made over night. The Government at Washington began to guarantee prices on wheat.

In 1918 everybody borrowed money, plowed and sowed, and paid for nothing, but gave their notes for old debts and interest, for machinery, for food, for everything, including liberty bonds which some of them promptly traded in on cost of new automobiles.

Armistice came and so did 1919 which will be remembered as long as the name of Montana lasts. That year little rain fell east of the Rocky Mountains. The bare, brown hills again lay dry and burning as in a torrid region. Each morning the sun rose red and hot to light up a brassy sky that scarcely sported a cloud as large as a man's hand all summer long. The grass dried up. The leaves early fell from the trees. The streams dried up to their very head-springs in the mountains to such an extent that the wild animals came down and grew tame. There was small crop, little harvest and little feed. As if to mock, winter began October 8th and continued with unwonted snowfalls and rigorous weather until May of 1920. Much of the livestock, to keep which it is said the banks furnished millions of dollars, went trembling afield the next spring to a bare range. That year merciless deflation took place and that fall, cattle that had been worth from $70.00 to $100.00 the fall before, and which had eaten $50.00 worth of hay, were worth from $25.00 to $50.00. Two-year-old ewes, the best property in Montana were worth $4.50. Wheat that had turned men's heads but a few short months ago, was worth the pre-war price. Sheep have come back, but cattle, horses and hogs have not. Meanwhile, let it be remembered that everything the farmer had to buy was worth 1.73 times pre-war quotations and is but little better yet. With this picture in mind, what could one expect? How would one retire a bank full of such assets as I have described? What else could one expect but a reenactment of the scenes of the Wonderful One Hoss Shay? The agricultural interests of the State had completely broken down. From that day until now that basic industry has scarcely yielded beyond cost of production. The history of these times teaches that no sustaining industry can be suddenly destroyed and the country avoid economic paralysis.

This period has been one long dripping tunnel—a veritable nightmare. Each day brought new disasters. The close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1921, (30 days after I took office) disclosed that 13 State banks had closed their doors from October 18, 1920 when the disaster began. True enough, some had been reopened but of these all but three were forced to close the second time and go into the hands of a receiver. I do not think any of them save a single exception, has paid a dividend to the depositors, thus showing that the economic causes were deep-seated, vital, malignant, fatal.

The call for condition statement at that date, June 30, 1921 (30 days after I took office) showed a sorry lot of banks. Of the 277 banks reporting on that call, 85 were in insufficient reserve. One hundred eighty-one of them had not been examined within the time prescribed by law. Some were as much as 24 months in arrears. Subsequent examination proved many of them to be full of second mortgages, frozen assets, land contracts, commission notes and whatnot.

All the examiners, save one, had recently resigned to enter other employment. With this preliminary survey in mind, I went before the State Board of Examiners and asked for seven additional examiners. I was promptly asked by the Board how the appropriation stood. On being informed that the appropriation was practically exhausted and that as matters stood there were not enough funds on hand to meet the pay-roll for the current month, the Attorney General advised me that he could not permit overdraft on the appropriation. Needless to say that I did not get the seven extra examiners.

At this time the Annual Report was due to be published as of the close of the fiscal year, June 30th, for the publication of which there were likewise no funds. I consulted leading bankers and the Montana Bankers Association and concluded to forego the publication, much to my personal regret, not only on the ground of lack of funds but also in the interest of the general public good in view of the adverse effect the notoriety might cause.

The ensuing twelve months afforded no relief. True, the city banks had been relieved of much of the country load by the War Finance Corporation, but that afforded little assistance to the country banks. They had borrowed too much money and pledged too much assets. The farming and livestock conditions continued bad and it was the paper of these interests that was frozen in the banks or in the hands of pledgees. The call report for June 30, 1922 showed even a worse condition than that of the same date the year before. Deposits had shrunk three million dollars according to this report and borrowed money had mounted to the crushing sum of fifteen millions, a sum almost equal to the entire employed capital of the whole system. Borrowed money is likely to be the bane of any bank and this condition in our case later proved no exception to the rule. The report revealed that we had lost 11 additional banks by actual failures having $2,700,000.00 deposits during the year. The next year, owing to the utter impossibility of the farmer to produce beyond cost of production, though his fields yielded, yet the ravage continued with increasingly disastrous effect, and at the end of that fiscal year, June 30, 1923, conditions had not improved, but the reaping of the fruit of the whirl-wind continued unabated. At the end of the year, we found that we had lost in actual bank failures 27 more banks with deposits amounting to $4,378,000.00. Deposits had now shrunk to $72,000,000.00 in the 242 reporting banks.

Sorry as the plight of the banks had been in the two previous years, it being impossible to stay the withering scourge, it was reserved unto the fiscal year 1923-4 to witness the culmination of Montana's banking tragedy. As the liquidation season of 1923 drew on, banks began to fall. Creditor-banks and pledge-holders began pressing for liquidation of the now long-standing customers' notes that had been pledged one and two and, maybe, three years before for borrowings. Depositing customers of banks began drawing their balances. It seemed that faith and confidence had departed. Note makers sold their crops but did not put the proceeds in the banks. Some would even forget to pay their obligations at the bank, so that November, 1923, witnessed 10 bank failures, December, 21; January, , 1924, 15, and February, 9; when suddenly the rage seemed to have spent itself and from the end of February to date of this report, we have lost but 5 banks. The year witnessed the definite failure of 68 banks. During the same period, the National System which had 146 banks at the beginning, November 15, 1920, lost some 53 banks by actual failures and otherwise, making a grand total of closings in both systems 191 banks according to information at hand.

This recitation is to call to your mind that the causes of failure of all these banks was deep-seated and not merely oversight in making a few loans, resulting in plain injudicious banking. It was economic in a major sense. It is undeniably true that country banks in the farming areas became extended and possessed of non-liquid and other forms of undesirable assets, but it is equally true that if crop yield and prices had obtained as in former years, the situation would have been little more than temporarily embarrassing. I do not believe that many pieces of paper have originated in any bank since I have been Superintendent of Banks, that occasioned any embarrassment to the bank, much less caused or even contributed to its failure in the remotest degree. On the other hand, all paper that has ultimately caused the failure, was there when I took office and could not have been removed at any given time without disastrous effect right then and there. It would appear that the only sensible thing to do under such circumstances, would be to work it out gradually. Such has been the settled policy of the Department since June 1, 1921, and before. This policy was concurred in by many thoughtful men at the time of formulating it. It was not original with me; it was suggested to me and I yielded to the suggestion. My personal feelings and private urge at the time is now beside the question. As a matter of fact, I believe the policy was definitely settled before I took office, and also I believe, that my predecessor waived the statutory reserve requirements for a time as an act of necessity. It was urged that by the very nature of things, the banking laws must require the reposing in the Superintendent of Banks large discretionary powers under such circumstances.

The closing of a bank's doors must ever afford cause for thoughtful consideration. The ruin, the distress, the litigation, bankruptcies, the expense, the wrath of the depositors, a suicide or two, homes broken up, fortunes lost, labor's savings swept away, the widow's mite gone, business stagnated, confidence shaken, men of reputation sent to prison perhaps, and all that follows the order to close the doors of a bank, are circumstances of the first magnitude, and hence no thoughtful Superintendent can but feel the importance and responsibility of his office and the dreadful consequences of a false step. No Superintendent, fully understanding his duties and obligations, can, or is likely to, make the order to close a bank without having first exhausted every effort and means to avoid and escape the last act—the closing of a bank's doors. It would have been much easier to have closed these weak banks when I took office than to have nursed them along.

We have had many failures attend our efforts to aid, but against these failures, we have, in very many instances, been able to remedy conditions so as to avoid serious impending dangers. Ours is a silent mission—nothing must be said or we would destroy the very object of our efforts. The bank examiner silently comes and as silently goes away. He examines the bank, often laboring far into the night. He classifies his findings and formulates his plan of action. In the morning, he causes the directors to be called together and they labor long and earnestly, sometimes at the bank and sometimes in an office uptown, sometimes in another city. The impairment in the bank is made good and the examiner goes his way. For instance: an examiner went into a small country bank and found $116,000.00 of what he called bad assets. The officers and directors, at first, demurred, and would not concede the correctness of his appraisals. The examiner announced that he did not intend to leave (knowing as he did the financial ability of the owners of the bank to save it) until the bank was saved. Finally, the third morning, the President capitulated and the examiner collected $105,000.00 on the spot, and saved the bank. This is but one instance. Cases of this sort can never be made known to the public. The people can only know our failures. To be sure, they are published far and wide and in their most brutal aspect. Indeed, as some one has facetiously remarked: it is not knowing when to close a bank, it is knowing when to leave it open. No bank ever closes without its harrowing features; failures cannot be otherwise. There is the latest depositor always. There are often some irregularities in the final desperate efforts of the officers in trying to save the institution. There is nothing pleasant about it. It can never be done right. It is also true that if one would close crippled banks right and left, many more people would have funds tied up in them than do have under the present circumstances, and it would follow that, granting that the closing of a bank in a community is the worst thing that can befall it, the misery would be greater by far by hastily closing. Those who lightly remark that "That bank should have been closed two or three years ago." speak thoughtlessly. They do not know what they are talking about. Maybe it would have been better to have closed it two or three years ago, maybe it would have been better never to have organized, even, but this is certain: that it would have caught twice as much money in it then as it did finally catch, in most cases, and consequently, would have done twice as much harm then as now.

We have passed through a long and terrible period of distress, a period in which one has at times almost thought the very head-springs of wealth dried up. There has been real distress in the state, long continued and hopeless. It were not asserting too much to say that it will be years before the last trace of this hitherto unknown destruction of values will be removed from the banks. There may possibly be a few more bank failures, but I believe the number will be negligible.

The country is now looking forward again. The last call, as of date of this report, shows more than two million dollars increase in deposits over the previous call, and the borrowed money situation has also slightly improved. If the crop now harvesting should command a good price, conditions will be greatly improved by the end of the year.

I know of but one way to pay a debt and that is to earn the money and pay it; that is what the people must do. Following the advice of General Robert E. Lee after Appomatox, when he told his soldiery to return to their homes and begin society anew on a new basis, so the examiners are advising the bankers to begin anew on a new basis. The old methods won't do. There has been a great change come over the people. "New times demand new measures and new men." We are in the new order of things. We are doing business in a new era.

BANK GUARANTEE LAW.

Times like the period through which we have just passed, have ever given rise to all sorts of nostras, having for their object the prevention of financial panics. In the periods after the close of the second war for independence, 1816-1820, likewise in 1837 and 1873 and again in 1893-96, the air was full of all sorts of proposals to do away with the possibility for the recurrence of so-called hard times. Our own time is not without its proposed panaceas. Now come those who would make laws that would prevent bank failures. That proposal also has been made at least three times in my own day. The remedy now is to guarantee bank deposits. I believe some dozen states have already enacted such a law with more or less indifferent success.

To start with, this fact is manifest that to have held the ship steady in its course in Montana, there would have to have been some agency ready to quietly dump in some thirty millions of spot cash of a sum equal to the entire banking capital of the state, in both the state and national systems.

To my mind, nothing is plainer than that to be adequate, a bank guarantee scheme must be nationwide and be supported by the Federal Government, much as the postoffice is and like the postoffice and other government agencies, its deficits taken care of by the government. It would then be able to draw on the average economic condition of the whole country to take care of any given distressed section. In my judgment, it should commence operation with a substantial capital fund contributed by well-known sources in which there would always be amongst the people a never-failing faith and confidence. This fund could be supplemented by a negligible service charge to the depositors or those who use the banking institutions of the country. To sum the matter up then, it would appear to me that no bank deposit guarantee scheme is likely to succeed that does not have the whole United States as its theater of operation and the Government back of it, both financially and in a managerial way.

FAILED BANKS.

In this period, the State experienced the actual failure of 110 or 38% of its State banks, viz:

Year Ending:	No. Failures	Employed Capital	Deposits	Bills Pay.	Other Liabilities
6-30-21 .....	4	$ 154,262	$ 754,726	$ 179,200	$ 21,661
6-30-22 .....	11	790,338	2,712,853	1,767,611	36,838
6-30-23 .....	27	1,494,721	4,378,124	2,455,688	20,143
6-30-24 .....	68	2,447,411	9,481,579	3,307,634	40,731
TOTAL .....	110	$4,886,732	$17,327,282	$7,710,133	$119,373

In addition to the above, we have at this date 6 banks in voluntary liquidation under the provisions of the emasculated Section 6109e Laws 1923. Should any of these later go into the hands of a receiver, they must be reclassified and will be added to above loss table.

Besides above liquidations, we have had 19 banks go into voluntary liquidation on the basis of paying 100% to the depositors.

In five instances consolidations have been effected.

CLOSED STATE BANKS.

The following table gives the number of bank closings by calendar years to June 30, 1924, and disposition of same:

1920—7 banks closed of which 4 were reopened later, 2 were either consolidated or voluntarily liquidated, 1 went to receivership.
1921—21 banks closed of which 6 were reopened later, 6 were either consolidated or voluntarily liquidated, 9 went to receivership.
1922—27 banks closed of which 2 were reopened later, 4 were either consolidated or voluntarily liquidated, 21 went to receivership.
1923—65 banks closed of which 3 were reopened later, 8 were either consolidated or voluntarily liquidated, 54 went to receivership.
1924—36 banks closed of which 1 was reopened later, 10 were either consolidated or voluntarily liquidated, 25 went to receivership.

NATIONAL BANKS.

It must be remembered as we go along that at the beginning of this period of failing banks, there were operating in Montana under the direct supervision of the Comptroller of Currency at Washington, D. C., 145 National Banks reporting to Comptroller of Currency September 8, 1920, with total employed capital of $14,963,000.00. Deposits of $80,860,000.00, Bills Payable, including Rediscounts, $11,746,000.00, Other Liabilities, $4,849,000.00.

Forty-one or about 30% of these banks failed according to the best information available to this Department. Thirty-eight of these banks (3 not reported to us) had capital $2,729,171.00, Deposits, $12,606,376.00, and Borrowed Money, $5,366,240.00.

Depositors have tied up in failed States banks, $17,327,283.00 and in failed National banks about $13,000,000.00 (3 not reporting), according to the best information available at this date.

The largest bank failure, by far, in the state, was a National bank with about three and a quarter millions of deposits. This failure was also the most far-reaching failure in the state as it drew into the vortex, directly and indirectly, a host of small country banks that either depended upon it or were depositors at the time of failure. This institution was, I believe, well connected, so far as financial connections go; and constituted, I believe, the eleventh largest National bank failure in the history of that system.

LOSSES IN OTHER STATES.

It must not be assumed that Montana has suffered the loss of its banks alone as the result of the post-war deflation. We are informed that here in our own Ninth Federal Reserve District, our sister States have likewise suffered great losses, much as it pains us to note it. We are credibly informed that Minnesota, a State to which drouth and disaster is quite unknown, has lost 71 State banks with employed capital of $1,530,000.00, Deposits, $14,257,836.00, and Borrowed Money, $2,555,943.00; that North Dakota lost 181 State banks with capital account of $4,145,200.00, Deposits, $21,166,866.00, and Borrowed Money, $8,251,121.00, and I am informed that South Dakota lost something like 150 State Banks.

NEW LEGISLATION.

As was hinted at in analyzing the progress and outcome of this disastrous period, at its beginning, we had almost no effective laws with which to cope with any such contingency as overcame us as a result of the sudden deflation, persistent drouth and other disasters.

We had no effective law of assessment and repairment, none for consolidating banks and so on. The Legislature, at the Eighteenth Session, gave us a few good Sections of law. We propose to offer a complete new banking code at the approaching session, by which we hope to further strengthen our position for the future. We purpose to propose legislation relative to Reserve, both primary and secondary; limitation of pledgings of collateral and borrowing authority, more definitely defining the power and duties of Superintendent relative to when and under what circumstances he may take charge of or close a bank; authorizing Superintendent to administer the affairs of closed banks; also relative to combined statements, second mortgages and other indifferent so-called securities, commission notes and uncollected interest, collection of tax from closed banks, graduating capital according to the size of the town or city, and other matters not now provided for, or provided for in an unsatisfactory manner.

NEW CHARTERS.

New charters should only be granted on the very soundest of consideration based on the needs of the community and on the fitness of those who propose the enterprise.

We have chartered 11 new banks since the fall of 1920 when the great slump began. In my judgment new banking enterprises are not likely to prosper in the future as they have in the past for various reasons, not the least among which is that the Government is a competitor on a 4¼% bond basis—the premier securities of the earth—as well as by its various savings activities.

Eight new charters have been granted since June 30, 1922, as follows:

Big Horn State Bank, Hardin, 5-9-1923	Capital, $35,000, Guaranty Fund, $315,000.00.
Commercial Bank, Ringling, 7-31-1923	Capital, $20,000, Surplus, $2,000.
Stockmens Bank, Martinsdale, 8-27-1923	Capital, $20,000, Surplus, $2,000.
Miners & Merchants Bank, Roundup, 9-28-1923	Capital, $30,000.
Roundup State Bank, Roundup, 10-30-1923	Capital, $50,000.
Central Bk. & Tr. Co., Lewistown, 6-2-1924	Capital, $100,000, Surplus, $10,000.
Hill Co. State Bank, Havre, 6-25-1924	Capital, $60,000.
Farm. & Merchts. Bk., Winnett, 6-30-1924	Capital, $25,000.

Number of State and Private Banks and Trust Companies reporting on June 30, the past six years, together with their aggregate deposits on those dates:

June 30, 1919, deposits	$96,051,995.00	in 286 banks
June 30, 1920, deposits	91,898,809.00	in 286 banks
June 30, 1921, deposits	76,319,952.00	in 276 banks
June 30, 1922, deposits	73,332,592.00	in 268 banks
June 30, 1923, deposits	72,058,920.00	in 242 banks
June 30, 1924, deposits	58,285,347.00	in 155 banks

The total number of banks and trust companies operating in Montana at this date is 248, classified as follows:

Commercial State Banks 139, Trust Companies 14, Private Banks 2, with aggregate employed capital $9,819,330.00, deposits $58,285,000.00, and total assets $71,200,000.00; and 93 National Banks with aggregate capital and surplus $9,719,000.00, deposits $61,062,000.00 and total assets $75,952,000.00. This would appear to allow us one bank for about every 2000 inhabitants.

PART II
BUILDING and LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

---

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

There are 33 buiding and loan associations operating in the State, having total assets over 22 millions of dollars, an increase of nearly 10 million dollars, as nearly as can be ascertained. They are all domestic but one—The Western Building and Loan Company of Salt Lake City, Utah, having been already in business in the State when the Act was passed March 1, 1897, requiring all such associations to be domestic corporations. The associations are all corporations organized under the general corporation laws of Montana, but administered under the Banking Laws in the absence of specific statutory regulations otherwise. They really are controlled by their By-Laws which very rarely fail to be very liberal, broad and elastic. No laws need to be re-written more than the laws governing these associations.
